DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's papers filed on 10/25/2007 are acknowledged and has been entered into the records. In view of the applicant's Remarks," the Examiner has been determined that it is best to examine the entire claim set, claims 1-96, together. Hence the restriction requirement of the previous office action has been withdrawn. Claims 1-96 are currently pending in the application.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the coupling of the measuring unit to the stage must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1, 90, 91, 92, 95 and 96 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Xu et al (US_6,483,580 B1).

5. Claims 1, 90, 91, 92, 95 and 96 are rejected because Xu et al (XU hereinafter) teaches of a measurement system configured to determine parameters of a structure during production, the system (see Figure 1-A) comprising: a stage 14 configured to support the structure 12 during measurements; a measuring unit 34 coupled to the stage 14, comprising: an illumination system 22 configured to direct incident light of substantially broad wavelengths band toward a surface of the structure 12 during measurements; and a detection system 34 coupled to the illumination system 22 and configured to detect light propagating from the surface of the structure 12 during measurements, wherein the measuring unit is configured to generate one or more output signals in response to the detected light during measurements; and a processor 40 coupled to the measuring unit 34 and configured to determine the parameters of the structure from said one or more output signals during measurements, wherein said parameters comprise a critical dimension of the structure and a layer characteristic of the structure (see col.5, line34- col.7, line 6).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2-89 and 93-94 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Xu et al (US_6,483,580 B1) in view of what is commonly known in the art.

8. Claims 2-89 and 93-94 are rejected because the Examiner takes official notice that the limitations claimed in said claims are either taught by Xu, or are well-known in the art, and therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate them into Xu's system to obtain a desired outcome.

9. Several facts have been relied upon from the personal knowledge of the examiner about which the examiner took Official Notice in this office action. Applicant must seasonably challenge well known statements and statements based on personal knowledge when they are made. In re Selmi, 156 F.2d 96, 70 USPQ 197 (CCPA 1946); In re Fischer, 125 F.2d 725, 52 USPQ 473 (CCPA 1942). See also In re Boon, 439 F.2d 724, 169 USPQ 231 (CCPA 1971) (a challenge to the taking of judicial notice must contain adequate information or argument to create on its face a reasonable doubt regarding the circumstances justifying the judicial notice). If applicant does not seasonably traverse the well-known statement during examination, then the object of the well known statement is taken to be admitted prior art. In re Chevenard, 139 F.2d 71, 60 USPQ 239 (CCPA 1943). A seasonable challenge constitutes a demand for evidence made as soon as practicable during prosecution. Thus, applicant is charged with rebutting the well-known statement in the next reply after the Office action in which the well known statement was made.

10. The prior art cited in the accompanying PTO-892 is made of record and not relied upon; is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
